Foreword

It's almost over now. All the noise, the laughter, the hurry and the hustle will be ended in a little while. We shall leave behind us empty classrooms, echoing halls, and silenced bells. We shall have left OHS.

But we all leave behind some little part of ourselves. Each and every one of us has had some moment—during the last four years—of laughter or tears, sweet victory or bitter defeat. When we are gone, only the memories of these will remain.

We are going on to bigger and better things—out in life to face the world. We shall no doubt drift apart, and friends may not see each other for a long time. Years from now—when perchance we meet again—these memories will come alive.

All our experiences, both good and bad, may not seem to us worthwhile remembrances now, but someday these things will be pleasant to recall.

The History of the Class of 1968

In the fall of 1964, 182 skittish Freshmen penetrated the halls of O.H.S. to begin what was thought of as our futile four years of fun. To set matters straight, we began by choosing Paul Legere, President—Tony Troy, Vice-President—Susan Johnson, Secretary— and Deborah Craig, Treasurer. At the conclusion of our first year, we attended the annual picnic at Wallum Lake.

Upon returning as Sophomores in September of 1965 with strengthened 'egos', the 183 of us elected John Coleman, President—Tony Troy, Vice-President—Donna Bertrand, Secretary— and Deborah Craig, Treasurer. In order to support our reputation as the most intelligent class ever to hit O.H.S., Joan Huekell, Donna Bertrand, Kathy Officer, Mary Connor, Cynthia Miller, Eric Johnston, David Blanchard, Craig Malbon, Eva Hatch, and Jane Norcross were selected as members of the National Honor Society. Another memorable event of this year was the purchase of our class rings from the Herff-Jones Company. The class 'hams', Ruth Cote, Eric Johnston, Kathy Officer, Craig Malbon, and Penny Card made their debut in the production of 'MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS,' one of Mr. Smith's pride and joys.

At the end of our 1966 summer recess, we filled the classrooms as Juniors—minus seven of our original number. Audrey Hayes, Donna Bertrand, Susan Johnson, and Deborah Craig were ordained leaders of our laudable class. Anne Dumont and Joan Haynes were chosen as officers of the Student Council, while Donna Bertrand was elected the Treasurer of the National Honor Society. Again the renowned stars and starlettes Kathy Officer, Ruth Cote, Eric Johnston, David Dimock, Deborah Morse, and Mark Thibodeau hit the stage in the production and creation of 'STARDUST'.

As Juniors, we were given the opportunity to hold our annual prom. We titled it 'SOMEWHERE MY LOVE', and it was held on the evening of November 18, 1967. Chosen as queen was Kathy Officer, and her court included: Deborah Berry, Karen Smith, Sandra Abrams, and Valerie Austin. The prom was the highlight of our third year at O.H.S.

At last we had reached the maximum! We had become the Senior Class of 1968 —bursting with 'savior-faire'. This was our final year, and so we decided to make it one we'd never forget.

This year Peter Schur was elected as President—Donna Bertrand, Vice-President —Ruth Cote, Secretary—and Deborah Craig, Treasurer. The Student Council was complemented by the Presidency of Kathy Officer, and the secretarial skills of Ruth Cote. Donna Bertrand became President of the National Honor Society with David Bennett as Vice-President. Carol Worthington served as Secretary, while Bruce Rodman was Treasurer. Students to gain new membership in the National Honor Society were Norma Hamilton, Susan Stockman, Lorraine Moisan, Barbara Randall, and Carolyn Luther.

Donna Bertrand was chosen D.A.R. Representative, Austin Violette Good Government Day Representative, and Kathy Officer was appointed Editor-in-Chief of our yearbook.

A class meeting was held and the Class Day speakers were elected: Patricia Collins, Donna Bertrand, Austin Violette, and Richard Pytko were chosen to present the class gifts; Carol Worthington—the Class Prophecy; Mark Thibodeau—the Class Will; and Pamela Waters the Class History.

As our class motto we chose, "FINISHED, YET JUST BEGUN", and as our colors, blue and green.

The Senior Prom was entitled 'LOVE IS BLUE'. Susan Shaw was chosen queen, with Lynn Sperring, Linda Carrigan, Sandy Abrams, Wendy Dumont, and Kathy Lynch in her court. It was held on May 17, 1968.

The class trip to Ted Hilton's proved an enjoyable occasion for everyone—a special event long to be remembered.

Class Day took place on June 3rd, and graduation on June 5th marking the close of four years of meaningful adventures, both mentally and socially, which I am sure that no one of us will ever forget.

The Prophecy of the Class of 1968

The year is 1988. While sitting in my brand new four-speed fuel injected Astro XKE, made by the Fellowes Motor Company, the fastest growing ship manufacturer on this planet, a wild idea struck me. It has been a long time since I've been back to Oxford, Massachusetts, of the planet Earth. I would like to find out what has happened to my old classmates.

I pulled in at the nearest gas station owned and operated by Joel Moyer. I asked him for a road map and his assistant, Peter Antonian quickly delivered it to me. He told me it would be cheaper for me to take the commercial space ships so I quickly drove into the parking lot of Pytko Airlines. I was surprised to see my old buddy, Debbie Craig, sitting behind the receptionist's desk. After a quick chat, Debbie gave me my tickets and I boarded the ship.

As the passengers were being seated, we were introduced to the pilot, David Fortier, the co-pilot, Donnie Hamilton, and the stewardesses, Linda Gervais, Betty Chaffee, and Anne Dumont. Seated in front of me was Tim Downey who told me he travels regularly on this ship. I was shown to my seat, and guess who I was to share a set with!!! None other than my old classmate Sue Stockman. She told me that she had been to Oxford recently and that I was in for a big surprise. She had not changed a bit. The trip lasted two and one half hours and when we got off the ship she was still talking.

I said 'Good-bye' and entered the airport. Behind the receptionist's desk at this airport was Wendy Dumont, still hoping to meet someone famous. She told me I would find some of my old classmates in the grocery store down the street.

As I turned the corner, I saw the sign—'Malbon's Meat and Produce Company'. Rick Ramsbotham was standing in the aisle stacking up cans and he told me I would get a big surprise at the rear of the store. Anne 'Bozo' Johnson had just been promoted to Chief Meat Cutter, and she was all excited about it. James Cameron, who had also just been promoted—to Chief Floor Walker —and Anne and I reminisced for a while and I finally said 'Good-bye'.

I got on the moving platform and headed for the new shopping center. The first shop I saw was Colleen's Coiffures. Looking in the window I recognized the hairdressers—Linda Albuquerque, Jean LaPrade, and Carol Nordstrom. Denise Rice was having her head shaved—the newest style, you know!

The next stop in the plaza was Mierzejewski's, a new women's clothes store. Norma Hamilton and Kathy Lynch were buyers for the store. I browsed around for a while and talked with Donna Bertrand who told me she and Cheryl Benoit were dress designers for the popular clothes.

Next door to Mierzejewski's was Water's Bar and Grille. Dianne Prunier and Diane Smith were working as waitresses. While I was eating, the maintenance man came out to speak with me. It was my old friend, Dave Bennett. He asked me if I had heard about the success of the Beane Recording Company. John Coleman was their newest discovery with his latest hit, 'You Can Be Happy Even If You Are Called Sad', written by Kenny and Billy. Dave told me that an old friend, Joan Haynes, had started producing plays that were winning fame everywhere. Eric Johnston and David Dimock were among the headliners, and Kathy Officer was well-known for her performance as a lady police sergeant.

I left the store and continued on the moving platform. All of a sudden I heard loud voices. I saw Dorothy Fisher, Norel Socia, Sharon Schliapa, and Linda Porter waiting in line for a live show of a new musical group, the Extremes. The members of this group were Mark Thibodeau, Evelyn Smith, Jane Brunelle, and Ernie Lavalle.

I picked up a local newspaper, The Huekell Daily, to see what the critics thought of the Extremes. The critics, Lissa Turner, Diane Thomas, and Kenny Waterhouse seemed to like them, although they would not dare admit it!

Looking at the front page, I saw the headlines—'Audrey Hayes—First Woman President of the Oxford Grange'. Vice-President was Edward 'Ho-Chi' Pentland, and second Vice-President was Steve Moody.

Noticing the article directly beneath this, I read, 'Officers of the Oxford Bike Club Elected for the New Year'. They were: Steve Paquette, President; Mike Lane, Vice-President; Gary Wickman, Secretary; Tony Troy, Treasurer. They had been elected for the twentieth time. Meetings were held once a month in the Town Hall— permission having been granted by the Chief of Police, Alan Hartland.

Scanning the sports page, I noticed that Oxford now had a women's baseball league. Gail Zuidema, Joanne Laliberte, and Maddy Moisan were the most renowned of all the women. Margo Ide was honorary bat girl. Their sponsor was the new Rainbow Interior Decorators. The owners were Glen Gray, Gerry Green, and Austin Violette. They employed a large number of apprentices among whom were Ellen Carlson, Sandy Abrams, and Kathy Worthington.

Now feeling rather tired, I checked into the new Shaw's Motel right near the center. Lorraine Moisan and Gail Hagenbuch were employed there as maids. Eva Hatch and Helen Avery were switchboard operators. Jimmy Cadarette and Dennis Brotherton were bus boys. I called for a cool drink and Dennis brought it to my room. He told me not to miss the new television show that would be on at 8:00 o'clock.

Turning on my television, I heard, 'The Cynthia Miller Show—Tonight panel guests will be the President of Planetary Communications, Inc., Janice Collins together with Vice-President, Susan Johnson'. A heated conversation was telecast. Miss Miller thought the speed of Interplanetary Vessels was much too fast, while the executives of the company disagreed. At the end of the show, nothing had been decided.

Sick of sitting in my room, I called Thompson's Taxi Service. I rode down town to Booker's Book Store and went in. One of the best sellers for this month was 'The Ups and Downs of Being a Twin'. It was composed of two stories by Terry and Timmy Gage, and by Edgar and Joe Latour. Also on the shelves was the autobiography of Deborah Morse, and a biography of Anne D. Johnson written by Kirk Morang. I purchased each of these books and left the store.

Right across the street was Stan's Sandal Store, owned by Stan Boris. Dave Casavant and John Constantine were the designers of the popular sandals for men.

Adjacent to this store, was Turner's Toga Shop. John told me, 'These short togas are beginning to become quite popular. They are light and airy and suitable for any occasion. Most of them are made of cellophane and are worn by both men and women. Sandy Widen and Bill Yucatonis model matching togas every Wednesday and Thursday evening'.

Feeling the need for some air, I got back on the platform and stopped when I heard some banging. A couple of yards to my left a new building was under construction. Darlene Jyringi, Kathy Boyd, and Lynn Sperring were bricklayers for rent. I spoke with them for a while and then got on Ayotte's Air Car and went back to my hotel, and again I was given a recommendation to see a television show which was on at 11:30 on channel 301.

I tuned in. It was a variety show with Dave Blanchard as host. His guests were John Phillips, an amateur magician; Charlotte Wright and Elsie Kurtigian, the Sour Notes and the popular new comedy act, sometimes called the Unrelated Relatives, Cynthia and Ray Johnson. Bernie Germain, the ever-successful track star, co-hosted.

After Blanchard's Binge was over, an old movie, Planet of the Cat People was programmed. Starring in it were Kathy Gregory, as the Queen Cat, Arthur King as King Cat together with Judy Lomas, Beverly Nelson, and Allayne Roussel as Cats of the Court. It was an exciting picture produced by Rosebrooks, Rodman, and Randall, Inc.

Early the next morning I rented an auto-car from Holden's Rent-A-Car Company and rode down the main boulevard. I passed the old factory—Prest Wheel, Inc. which had just been purchased by Alby Prunier. I looked in at Woodside Dairy where my old friend, Jane Norcross still works. I waved to Sharon Mulvaney and Lorraine Nolet who were drinking cokes inside.

I passed Briggs Used Car Sales where Mitch Bell and Walter Churchey worked. They had just sold a real lemon to Dennis O'Connell who I saw on the side of the road with this broken down car waiting for Amy's Auto Towers owned by Amy Guzman.

I kept on riding until I came to the 3-S Swim Rentals owned by Peter Schur, Jayne Skeates, and Karen Smith. They supply the equipment for the new playground center. Penny Card and Linda Arsenault watched the children there during the day. Continuing on beyond this playground, I saw some more old friends—Patty Collins and Becky Fortin with their children.

The Snack Bar at the Playground is run by Muriel Bejune and Joyce Morissette, and they are famous for their Space-Burgers.

By this time I was beginning to miss my home so I went down to the airship landing to get my return home tickets. The landing was named for Tommy Erskine who had just beaten Robin Cheney's record of 7½ days of solo flying without refueling. In the lobby I saw Joyce Faneuf and Mary Connor who were going for a trip to my home planet. I told them I would meet them on the ship, and I went to call my home via the Radar Home Phone.

The operator, Linda deVillers, connected me quickly and I spoke to one of my neighbors, Cheryl LaMountain. She told me that four of my old classmates were waiting at my living quarters now. I told her I would rush home, and I went to catch my ship.

There was a different group of stewardesses on this flight including Pat Glidden, Jeanne Morin, Theresa Lavalle, and Marsha Plante. John Oveka was flight captain with Paul Mathurin as assistant.

Halfway home there was some engine trouble and we had to stop over on a nearby planet for a few hours. While waiting, we were entertained by a small group of performers. They included Mike Lehner, John Parmenter, and Bob Dion who did impersonations of famous people. I was surprised to see Arlene Mita, the world-famous bubble dancer, traveling with the group along with her side-kick, Joan Dudula.

When the show was over, the ship had not yet been repaired so I went along with the rest of the passengers to a sports-ship race a few yards away. Sharon Gauthier came in first in her Lunar Vette; Paul Panczyk, second in his Moonship III, and in her homemade cone-shaped Speedamaro Louise Martin placed third. The presentation of awards was made by Steve Balcunas, a winner himself a few years ago.

I noticed that the passengers were filing back to the ship and I got on board along with them. A couple of new passengers had been added—my friends John Carter and James Booth. They had been defeated in the sports-ship race.

The ship took off and I arrived on my planet just three hours behind schedule. I picked up my XKE at Lucewich's Parking Garage and rushed to my living quarters excited about seeing the four visitors there.

Suddenly I heard a high-pitched siren. The traffic police officer was following me. I pulled over and Carolyn Luther, the woman traffic cop, gave me a warning. We had not seen each other for a long time, so she was easy on me.

I arrived at my house and my four friends came rushing out to greet me: Ruth Cote, Karen Blomberg, Linda Carrigan, and Janice Gaspie. They were on a trip to every planet in the universe. After a long talk, we reluctantly said, 'Good-bye'.

When I returned to my apartment building, I was surprised to learn that the ownership had changed. Denise Jacques, the former owner, had sold the whole line of apartments to Joy Harrington. Lynn Earley had gone into partnership with her, naming my apartment The Early Apartment.

I settled down in my comfortable room to write down this account of my trip which may be published some day. It will make good reading for any of my classmates of Oxford Memorial High School in Massachusetts on the planet Earth in the year 1968!

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1968

We, the class of 1968, Oxford Memorial High School, Oxford, Massachusetts, being of sound mind and body, declare this to be our last will and testament.

It is our first wish that all underclassmen be endowed with a new scholastic atmosphere for the coming school year. Therefore, to the Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen, and Junior High School pupils, we, the Senior Class, bequeath the new three million dollar high school at Carbuncle Park and to all future students of Oxford High for the purpose of better attaining their academic goals. It will be equipped with 47 classrooms, language laboratories, electronics shops and woodworking shops as well as new Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and General Science labs. In this school also there will be a large theatre-type auditorium complete with balcony, and an 800 seat gymnasium in which it is our wish that all future O.H.S. basketball teams have winning seasons.

On the grounds of the new school will be a new football stadium for the team to be organized next year, outdoor basketball and tennis courts which will be open to the public. To facilitate and accommodate the many automobiles and motorcycles at the school, a freshly paved parking lot free of tire marks will be installed. It is Mr. Pottle's wish that it be kept that way!

Secondly, we endow upon the struggling Juniors one of the most cherished of privileges: that being the right to call themselves Seniors for the coming year! This is an honor that most people experience only one year in their lifetime, and, along with this great honor, we have the finesse, intelligence, wisdom, generosity, prowess, personality, and wit which we, as a class, have put so well into practice since the beginning of our high school days.

However, along with this illustrious title, we leave the Juniors the hard work and effort which go along with the title of Senior. We leave also the thoughts of all the things we have enjoyed during our short stay as Seniors—thoughts of the Senior Prom, the Yearbook, Class Day, Graduation practice, class trip, Graduation practice, and finally the big day. Whatever the outcome. GOOD LUCK!

To the Sophomores, we leave the title of Juniors and the thought of two more years of school. Next year, also, you will be considered upperclassmen and will be eligible for all the appropriate privileges. But, moreover, it is a turning point. It is a time to start thinking about your future—going to college, learning a trade, or even marriage. Long as it may seem, your graduation is a mere two years in the future.

To the Freshmen we leave three more years of school and the title of Sophomore for the coming year.

Individually, our gifts to deserving successors include:

Bruce Rodman leaves his time in the low hurdles to Dennis O'Mara
Austin Violette leaves his all-round basketball prowess to Norman LeBlanc
Cindy Johnson leaves her fuzzy fingers to Debbie Davis
Tom Erskin leaves all his fights with Wendy behind
Linda Albuquerque leaves with her teachers still wondering how to spell her name
John Oveka leaves his distinguished position at Prest Wheel to Larry Viel
Carol Worthington leaves her split ends to some nervous underclassman
Suzie Shaw leaves her gullibility to Nancy Moyer who doesn't need it
Debbie Morse leaves her big mouth to Donna Rutter
Kathy Gregory leaves the severed finger her father found to her brother, Paul
David Dimock leaves his sexy green bermudas to David Kiwak
Ruth Cote leaves her collection to science
Steve Paquette leaves all the underclassmen his examples of fine etiquette.
Kathy Connor leaves her tit'e of class valedictorian to next year's most worthy senior
Cathy Officer leaves a few words of wisdom to Diane Paradis—'It wasn't a pretty face'
Clifford Briggs leaves Mr. Pottle 40 feet of rubber in the school parking lot
Muriel Bejune leaves the school car in one piece
Albie Prunier leaves his title of class Tarzan to Marc Gisleson
Robin Cheney leaves his quiet manner to Mr. Brissette
Mitchell Bell leaves his French ability to George Clouthier
Alan Hartland leaves his brains to Science
Cindy Miller leaves her Psychology books to The Twilight Zone
Becky Fortin leaves her freckles as her mark on the world
Pam Waters leaves her long hair to Cindy Whitten
An unidentified donor has left Mr. Fontaine one boys camp
Barbara Randall leaves her sister Jacky a plane ticket to Utah

And we, The Senior Class, leave Mr. Brissette our complete forgiveness for striking out six (6) times during the class trip

Finally, in passing, we would like to say 'Thank You' to all the teachers who helped us to make the past four years so successful
